

CSUN Lactation Training

Diversifying the Lactation Field Scholarship

The Diversifying the Lactation Field Scholarship Program aims to diversify the lactation field by awarding scholarships to individuals from underserved communities interested in supporting breastfeeding families.

We are delighted to announce that through funds made available from CSUN Foundation, we are able to award up to 15 Scholarships for diverse health care professionals or aspiring healthcare professionals to attend CSUN's Fall 2024 Virtual 10-week Comprehensive Lactation Education Training (see calendar on next page for dates/times).

If you are an aspiring Registered Nurse interested in working in the areas of OB, L&D, postpartum, NICU or PEDS, or an aspiring healthcare professional interested in working with mother/baby dyads, one way you can distinguish yourself is through obtaining the credentials of either a certificated lactation educator (CLE) or International Board Certified lactation consultant (IBCLC). To learn more about each of these credentials visit the careers in human lactation webpage.

For more information about the Comprehensive Lactation Education Training, read the brochure.

Please send an email to lactation.education@csun.edu to request a link to the scholarship application.

Application period will be open from April 15 to May 18, 2024.

If you have questions about the training, feel free to email us at lactation.education@csun.edu.

Thanks,

The Human Lactation Team
